
RWUEA OFFICIAL WEB SITE

Our site is open to members and non-members alike to browse the site and learn about our association and its activities and also view the current Newsletter.

Our member search section has been modified to protect the privacy of our members. At this time, we are only displaying the member's name and state of residence. For more information, including the street and city address and the e-mail address, if we have it, please e-mail us at rwuea_news@hotmail.com and we will furnish more complete information. We regret this action but it has become apparent that outsiders were obtaining our member list and using it to send scam messages to our members, including messages purportedly from Western Union that looked pretty authentic. We will be reviewing this situation again in the future. All address changes and e-mail address additions should continue to be sent to Loanne Carroll at doxbury@aol.com with a copy to Mike Brown at mikemon@frontiernet.net. Please also send a copy to Richard Utz at richardutz@netpass.com.

This site, which is updated frequently, has, among many categories:

- Links to MIT's collection of all WU Technical Reviews
- Availability of a CD containing all the Technical Reviews that can be purchased for $5.00
- Several links to various photo albums
- Several links to historical WU documents
- Stories from retirees and a request for more such historical stories

Recently, this site has posted photographs of all but one of Western Union's former reperfocator locations. Harold Smith, the web-master, is missing photographs of the Richmond, Virginia location. If you have or know of anyone that has a photograph of this location, please contact Harold by e-mail at: Harold@comcenter.net. The photographs can either be sent to him by e-mail or mailed to him at 153 Mason St., Rochester, NY 14626. Harold will scan any photos sent to him and then return them.

CAN YOU HELP?

Shaun Mooney is the Property Manager for 60 Hudson Street, New York City, the former Western Union Headquarters building. They are in the process of redesigning the elevator cabs along with other restoration projects in the building. They're having trouble finding pictures, plans, etc., and would like to see if any of our members can provide any information that might help them. They are looking for information or pictures concerning the original design of the elevator cabs. So, anyone who has photos and can make decent copies, please send them to Mr. Mooney. Also, if there are those out there who can remember what they were originally designed like, Mr. Mooney would appreciate such information. He would also appreciate any other photos former WU employees have of 60 Hudson Street. Shaun Mooney can be reached at the following:
